PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1883.

NO. 177.

New time table of the K. C. in our Friday's issue.

Circuit Court convened at Winchester yesterday.

The loss by fire in the city of Covington last month was only $55.

SIXTEEN frame buildings were destroyed by fire at New Orleans Sunday.

THERE are 650 patients in the Lunatic Asylum at Lexington, and no vacancies.

THE long looked for buckwheat cakes have come at last and are duly appreciated.

ASHLAND is to have a military company. Fifty-five names have already been enrolled.

ELDER J. S. SWEENEY, of this city, began a protracted meeting in the Christian church at Danville last night.

QUARTERLY meeting will begin at the Methodist church Friday night, and will continue over Sunday.

BRICE LETTON got run over by a horse and break wagon on the street here yesterday, and was severely bruised.

THE loss in the county during the year so far, amounts to $100,000 by fire, $50,000 by storm, and $20,000 by water.

NICHOLASVILLE is building a new opera house with a seating capacity of 900. That is just what Paris needs mightily bad.

WALTER BOYD, of Sharpburg, an intemperate young man, was found dead in his bed at Mt. Sterling, Friday morning.

It is reported that the Knights of Pythias Lodges in Covington are about to be closed up, for want of attendance by the members.

JEFF. PARKER will erect a new corn mill at Hutchison, and C. B. Smith has been appointed postmaster, Mrs. Hutchison having resigned.

JOHN MARSHALL GRUELLE, brother of Wallace Gruelle, editor of the Breckenridge News, died at his home in Arcola, Illinois, October 23rd.

ALONZO MORROW, of Hutchison, raised 900 bushels of Irish potatoes on four acres—no guess work; they were weighed when sold and delivered.

RAY HARRIS was run over by a loaded wagon at Nicholasville, Saturday, and his leg was badly broken and otherwise injured so that he died.

A MR. MOORE, of Carlisle, has rented the bar and fixtures of the Thurston House and will in the future hand out the jig water at that establishment.

BEFORE you begin to store your fruits and vegetables in the cellar, give it a thorough cleaning out and airing, ending up with a good whitewashing.

THE election class of Miss Irene Hibler will give an entertainment in the chapel of the city school on next Friday evening. The public is invited.

A HOUSE burned at Pleasant Hill, near High Bridge, and Mr. Scott, of the firm of Dunberry & Scott, fell dead with heart disease while running to the fire.

COL. A. M. SWOPE, in a letter in the Danville Tribune, nominates Arthur and Lincoln as the Republican candidates for President and Vice President in 1884.

FOUR men went through a car on the Washburn, St. Louis and Pacific railroad near Danville Junction, and with drawn pistols robbed the passengers of about $50.

ELDER B. F. CLAY tendered his resignation as pastor of the Harrodsburg Christian Church last Sunday, to take effect January 1st. It was accepted by the congregation.

A FIRE Sunday morning at Port Costa, Cal., destroyed the business portion of the town and eight Central Pacific car loads of wheat. Loss, $100,000; insurance unknown.

DOGS have made recent raids on the sheep of John B. Kennedy and James Hall and killed and wounded quite a number. This county ought to have an effective dog law.

MR. A. FLEMING and C. B. McCarthy have taken editorial charge of the Lexington Advertiser. They are journalists of capacity and experience and should make a lively paper.

J. SHIPMAN, a Government contractor, living near Washington, was bunked in Cincinnati out of $80 in money and $2,400 in checks. The police have found nobody to arrest.

C. B. CLARKSON was arrested for horse-stealing at Nicholasville, but on getting leave to go into his house to change clothing, escaped by jumping out of a window thirty feet high.

A THOROUGH investigation shows that it is not practicable to establish free turnpikes in this state at present, but a good dog law is practicable and ought to be enacted by the next Legislature.

COL. EDMONDSON reports 500 cattle on the market here yesterday, and all sold at $8.50 to $8.85; aged mules $100 to $150; yearlings, $90; plug hogs in good demand at fair figures. Big crowd in attendance.

FRIDAY as fifty convicts were being conveyed from Frankfort to Hedges Station to work on the railroad, one jumped out of a window of the closest and escaped, while the train was running at full speed.

THE ladies of the Foreign Mission Society of the Christian Church have announced a "jug-breaking" for Thanksgiving night, after which Mrs. Judge Richard Reid, of Mt. Sterling, will deliver an appropriate address.

SOME forty years ago there resided on Twin Creek, Harrison county, a man named Cason whose wife regularly bore him twins every two years. They removed to Scott county, Mo., after which their children came one at a time.

A FIRE burned R. Lowell's and Agnew's livery stables and Armstrong's Central Flouring Mills on Short street, Lexington, Saturday night. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $8,500 on the three buildings. All the horses were saved.

ON Saturday night at about 9 o'clock, the old log stable of Mrs. McGinty Brown, in rear of the Colored Christian Church, burned. It was set on fire in the loft which was filled with hay. A horse was led out of it just before the roof fell in.

THE Mt. Sterling Sentinel has given up all hopes of the Paris, Frankfort & Georgetown road being made through that city, and says that the prospect is now "that it will be consolidated with the Kentucky Union and connect with it near Hedges' Station."

THE trite old saying that "persons who live in glass houses should never throw stones" is about to lose its aptness, for an English inventor has produced a method of hardening glass to be used for house building at which an occupant can throw all the stones he wants to without hurting anything.

GEO. M. DAVIE, a young lawyer, a son-in-law of Gen. Wm. Preston, had a fist fight with Judge Theodore Burnett, ex-Confederate Congressman, in the rotunda of the Louisville Court-house Saturday afternoon. In striking a hard lick, Judge Burnett threw his shoulder out of joint, and then friends interfered.

A NUMBER of Olivet's people are attending the debate at Sardis this week. We ask the Olivet folks how the debate is progressing; usually, they say, "finely, only it's one-sided; Hanford can't debate." Sardis, well, how is the debate? "O, Sweeney is being walked over rough-shod." Both are beating, and will so continue.—Mt. Olivet Democrat.

THE Flemingsburg Times-Democrat of last week, says: This is "dog week" at Louisville. We have often heard that every dog had his day, but this time the managers of the Exposition have decided to give him a whole week. There are about 479 sheep-killing curs in this county which we wish some one would take to Louisville—and drown in the Ohio river.

MAHLON MACKIE, a young lawyer, has been arrested and taken to Louisville, on the charge of having charged $800 for collecting pension fees amounting to $1,600 for an old black woman. The Sentinel says that he charged but $10, the legal fee, and that the woman voluntarily gave him the $800. Mr. Mackie at once gave the required bail and returned home.

THE Court of Appeals overruled the petition for a rehearing in the case of Frank Steele for killing Capt. Welch in Woodford county. It was a very cowardly murder—he having slipped up on Welch and shot him in the back. Eleven of the jury were for the death sentence, and one for imprisonment, and a compromise was effected on a life sentence. Blackburn even refused to pardon him.

A NEW track will be made at our depot for the Maysville trains, and a platform sixteen feet wide will be made between it and the main line, which will be made where the present track from Maysville now is. The track now used for the main line near the depot, will be used exclusively for the Lexington trains. By this plan all trains will stand abreast, and passengers can easily tell which from which.

A PACKAGE addressed to "Wabash-he-ho-wolf-Featherless-Boy," Carlisle, Pa., came into the postoffice here Monday, through mistake.—Carlisle Mercury.

There is a school at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, conducted by the United States government for the education of Indian children and there are many of them in attendance—thus showing that the above package was no myth.

Money to Loan.
$650.00 To loan on first mortgage on real estate. Address, S. W., box 151.

The Fire Flend Again.
SATURDAY morning at 5:15, the large ware room belonging to Jas. Ford and R. B. Hutchcraft and occupied by the latter, was discovered to be on fire in the 2nd floor. The building being filled with hemp from bottom to top, was not long in being consumed by the fire flames. The hatching house and another frame building in the rear were also burned. Hutchcraft & Ford's loss on two buildings, $12,000; insurance, $8,650. Hutchcraft's loss on stock $38,000; insurance about $25,500. The warehouse of Gass & Hanly and the house of W. F. Spears caught fire, but the flames were extinguished before any damage was done.

The following are the companies represented and their losses: London Assurance, $3,000; American of Philadelphia, $3,250; Union of Philadelphia, $2,500; Imperial London, $2,500; North Western National of Milwaukee, $2,500; Glenn Falls, N. Y., $3,750; Lancashire, of England, $3,450; La Confiance, Paris, $2,500; Sun, London, $1,000; Commercial Union, $3,000; Connecticut, $1,000.

A cat sat on a rafter until the flames roasted it.

The new grass cleaner and engine in the grass-cleaning department cost $3,000.

J. K. Ford & Co., claim to have lost $20,000 worth of property by the fire and cyclone last week.

Brent Hutchcraft bought and paid for $3,000 worth of hemp just placed in his ware room last Wednesday.

J. J. Shaw & Co. will get pay for their uncompleted roof on the ware room, but lost $108 worth of box tin in the building at time of the fire.

—Mayor Purnell left Sunday for Clarksville, Va., on legal business in connection with the Webb Ross will case. A special term has been set for the trial of the case this week. It is said that $250,000 is involved in it. Mrs. Purnell accompanied her husband, and will go on to Baltimore to visit relatives.

—One of Mrs. Langtry's pretty walking dresses is of dark blue broadcloth, with skirt bordered by several tiny platings of red and yellow satin, a short distance above which is a band of chambray skin some three inches in width. The tight-fitting waist is similarly trimmed, and the little turban worn with it is of dark blue.

—James Gass did not accompany Newton and bride on their tour East, as published Friday. He told Wallace Mitchell (apparently in good earnest that he would) and Wallace told it to his brother George, who was at work in this office, and it was so published. We publish this as one among the many instances where silly jokes bring newspapers in to gross errors, and oftentimes to severe criticisms.

John Harned, father-in-law of J. H. Bassett, was buried here yesterday. He died in the West.

THE Flemingsburg railroad train now connects with Conductor Martin's train both ways, so that passengers can now go from here to Flemingsburg and return the same day. Quite a convenience for Court-day—the 3rd Monday.

BUFFALO BILL and Dr. Carver are about to separate in the show business. Bill is making too much money for Carver, who is a better shot than Bill. Carver can break glass balls on a horse at a full gallop, while Bill can only strike one occasionally in a canter.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

Condensed and Put into Readable Shape.

DOMESTIC.
The steamer St. Francis sank in the Lachine Rapids of the St. Lawrence River on the 30th. She had fifty passengers on board, who were landed on an island where they spent the night.

ROBERT KERR, a dissipated member of a wealthy family of Edinburgh, Scotland, was burned to death in a house on Oak River, Manitoba, on the 30th while intoxicated. He had just come into possession of a large sum of money.

The first bale of cotton ever picked from the field by machinery was exhibited at the Charleston (S. C.) Cotton Exchange on the 30th. The condition of the cotton was pronounced by cotton men as good as hand-picked of the same grade.

WHILE Hunter's Consolidated Show was exhibiting at New Edinburgh, Ark., on the 31st, unknown persons fired a volley through the canvas. The bullets passed through all parts of the tent, which was crowded with spectators. A contortionist who was performing in the ring was shot through the head and died instantly. The fiends who fired the volley fled to the woods.

THREE hundred houses in Savannah, Ga., covering half a square mile, a large cotton warehouse containing three thousand bales of cotton, and much other property, were burned in a fire which broke out at noon on the 31st. Fifteen hundred people, the greater part of them colored, have been rendered homeless and sleep around fires, which are built on open lots. Three persons are known to have lost their lives, and the number will probably be raised to ten. The loss is roughly estimated at $1,000,000, with insurance aggregating less than half of that amount.

A SPECIAL carrying the officers of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, running as fast as the engine could be made to go, collided near Fountain City on the 31st with a freight train. The wreck was a bad one, but there was no one seriously injured.

NINE Cherokee Indians have organized themselves into a company for the purpose of establishing a National Bank at Vinita, Indian Territory, with a capital of $50,000.

A HORSE-THIEF named Small, in the Belvidere Jail, N. J., has taken a notion that he will surpass Dr. Tanner's record as a faster. He has eaten nothing since October 6.

MCPADDEN, of Winnipeg, and Martland, of St. Louis, fought for $1,000 and, at Caldwell, Idaho, on the 31st. Martland was carried from the ring insensible at the end of the fourteenth round, and will probably die.

CHAS. H. SAMS, of Savannah, Ga., was shot and killed at New York on the 31st by his mistress, Jennie Mitchell. The woman claims it was an accident.

Two masked men robbed the vault of the County Treasury of Virginia City, Nev., a few nights ago of $8,000. They overpowered the Treasurer and locked him up in the vault. The affair is considered mysterious, as $4,000 of the amount was in silver and too heavy to carry off.

The Detroit Free Press and the Post and Tribune have reduced in price from five to three cents per copy.

A TRAGEDY resulted from a game of croquet near Woodbury, N. J., a few days since. Rudolph Hines became angry because his wife beat him at the game, and kicked her with his heavy cowhide boot. She became unconscious and died soon after.

The libel suit of the Allan Steamship Company for $50,000 damages against the Montreal Witness (newspaper), was decided in favor of the newspaper.

The fence-cutting troubles in Texas are believed to have been adjusted, and no further trouble is anticipated.

A GANG of ten counterfeiters, whom a Government detective has been watching for months, have been captured in Pike County, Ind.

New light-buoys, from England, are to be anchored off Cape Lookout, the Diamond Shoals and Cape Hatteras, which are supplied with condensed fat gas. They will burn day and night for four months without attention, and can be seen a distance of ten miles.

The steamer Katie P. Kountz and cargo was destroyed by fire in the Mississippi River, at Davis' Landing, twenty miles above New Orleans, on the 1st. The boat was valued at $18,000, and insured in Eastern offices for $9,000.

AS THE freight train on the Southern Pacific was crossing the Santa Anna River bridge near Canton, Cal., on the 1st, a car-wheel broke. Eighteen cars were precipitated into the river. The loss was heavy. Two tramps were killed and two braken injured.

The double team, H. B. Winship and Hiram Bruce, made their mile at Narragansett Park on the 1st, in 2:10.4. It is the best time ever made by a double team, and is within half a second of Maud S.'s best time.

The New York Chamber of Commerce has adopted resolutions strongly condemning the watering of stocks by corporations, and favoring a reduction in city postage. A committee was appointed to prepare a plan for a National bankrupt law.

"Steve" Raymond, the English forger, convicted at New York for passing a forged coupon of the Union Pacific Railroad, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for life.

The Post-office at Haverhill, Mass., was entered by burglars a few nights ago, the safe blown open and five hundred dollars in cash and one thousand dollars in stamps stolen.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.
MARY CHURCHILL, the missing St. Louis girl, has written to her father that she is not on the stage but gives no more definite information concerning herself.

HENRY IRVING, the noted English tragedian, appeared for the first time in America at the Star Theater in New York on the evening of the 29th, as Mathias, the Polish Jew, in the drama of "The Belk." William Winter says the audience received Irving as an honored friend, whose name and fame were, long ago established. He thinks that since the old days of Charles Kean no display of morbid spiritual vivisection has been seen upon the stage that approaches or even resembles the dream of Mathias, as acted by Henry Irving, and he adds that he knows of no parallel to the sustenance of Irving's tremendous agony in that most difficult of all dramatic conditions—soliloquies. The audience, one of the most brilliant ever gathered, was spell-bound.

GUSTAVAS VASSA FOX, Assistant Secretary of the Navy under Lincoln, died at his home in Lowell, Mass., on the 29th, aged sixty-two years.

TIMOTHY J. MARGNET, City Comptroller of Buffalo, has declined a re-nomination, on the ground that he has already embezzled $5,000 belonging to the city. His friends say he is crazy.

MATHEW ARNOLD delivered his lecture on "Numbers" in Chickering Hall, New York, on the evening of the 30th. There was a large and brilliant audience present. He read his lecture by poor light and in a tone of voice that was not audible half-way down the hall.

MAJOR CRUMBAUGH, Collector of Internal Revenue in the Second Kentucky District, has been acquitted in the U. S. Court of the charge of using official envelopes for private correspondence.

C. A. HOLT, a Boston lawyer, has been arrested on the charge of violation of the pension laws.

GOVERNOR BUTLER says that the rights of the people of Massachusetts have been circumscribed by laws recently enacted until it is harder for an elector to approach a ballot-box in Massachusetts than in any other State in the Union.

JOHN C. K. HEINE, a prominent lawyer of Reading, Pa., has mysteriously disappeared. It is alleged that he retained $18,000 collected for the heirs of an estate.

THOS. HOAG, who mysteriously disappeared from his jewelry store on Broadway, New York, September 24, passed through Albany October 31, on his way home. He had been to London and returned by way of Halifax.

MISS JESSIE TALMAGE, daughter of the famous Brooklyn preacher, was married on the 31st in the Talmage Tabernacle to Warren G. Smith, a jeweler of the same city. It was a very brilliant affair.

JUDGE MCCRARY, in the United States Court, at Denver, has declared invalid the titles of 2,500 acres of valuable lands, the deeds to which, though from innocent holders, were traced back to patents obtained by fraud.

JOHN COLLINS, son of E. K. Collins, a large steamboat owner, of New York, has brought suit for $50,000 for false imprisonment and malicious prosecution against his stepmother, Mrs. Sarah J. Collins. He claims that she secured his arrest on a charge of perjury, in May last, for the purpose of deterring him from contesting his father's will, by which the greater portion of his property was bequeathed to her.

HUGH N. GOLDSMITH, the nineteen-year-old son of Hon. J. M. WASHINGTON NOTES.
The Interior Department has joined the Naval Observatory in recommending that the time of the 75th meridian, which is to be the standard of the Eastern division of the uniform railway schedule, be adopted as the local time of Washington City, and the recommendation meets with no opposition from the other Departments. If the change is made, the clocks in Washington will have to be put forward eight minutes and twenty-two seconds.

The clear intimation of the report of the Utah Commissioners is that unless the monogamic Mormon Legislature shall enact laws which will carry out the Edmunds Act in its spirit, and provide for the disfranchisement of polygamists, severe measures should be adopted.

The amount disbursed by army pension agents in the last fiscal year was $59,906,501. Of this there was disbursed at Washington, D. C., $3,449,610; at Indianapolis, $5,154,800; at Chicago, $5,856,779; at Columbus, O., $5,684,320. The total amount of "arrests of pensions" disbursed by agents during the year was $79,811.

The Secretary of the Interior has sustained the Commissioner of Indian Affairs in his decision, to the effect that the Department does not recognize the Courts of Indian Territory as Courts of Record with in the meaning of Section 2108 of the Revised Statutes, which requires that certain agreements made with Indians shall be executed before a Judge of a Court of Record.

The Secretary holds it was not the intention of the law-makers that agreements should be executed before Judges having such limited knowledge of laws and treaties affecting the rights of Indians, and such limited general information as Judges of the Indian Courts within the Indian country usually possess.

INTERNAL REVENUE COMMISSIONER EVANS published a letter on the 1st from Collector Crumbaugh, in which numerous threats were made if he interfered in the affairs of the Kentucky Collection District over which Crumbaugh presided.

GENERAL SHERMAN had a short talk with General Sheridan at Army Headquarters in Washington on the 1st about current business. Then he wrote a brief order relinquishing the command, and rising, gave Sheridan his seat. The latter issued an order assuming command, and the transfer was completed. The two Generals then called upon the Secretary of War, and with him paid their respects to the President. There is much regret in Washington over the retirement of General Sherman and the breaking up of his military family.

LONDON AGAIN SHAKEN.

Two Terrible Explosions in the Underground Railway in London Cause Great Consternation—Fifty or Sixty Persons Wounded and a Large Amount of Property Destroyed—The Crime Attributed to Fenians—Alleged Discovery of Rocket-like Contrivances.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—At eight o'clock last evening a terrible explosion occurred near the Praed-street underground station of the Metropolitan Railway. On the first alarm a strong cordon of police was summoned to preserve order, to keep the way clear, and to convey the wounded people to hospitals. Passengers on the train at the scene of the explosion say there was suddenly a loud report, like a cannon, and then suddenly darkness, the gas-lights from the front to the rear of the train being put out. Glass was broken and splinters of wood flew about the cars, cutting and wounding many passengers. Above the din were heard the shrieks of the injured and panic-stricken people. All this occurred in a moment, and for a while confusion reigned supreme. The train, which was crowded, contained principally country visitors returning from the fisheries exhibition. After leaving the station the train traveled steadily ahead, although the concussion smashed nearly all the lamps in the Praed-street Station and caused much damage to the permanent way.

When the train reached the next station, on the Edgeware road, the first effort was made to rescue the wounded. Some were dreadfully burned, but more were prostrated by fright. The doctors, surgeons, and dispensaries in the neighborhood were called into requisition. The first impression was that an explosion of gas caused the disaster, but later inquiries tend to show malice. Two rear carriages were damaged most. They are mere skeletons. Another theory is that the explosion was caused by foul gas accumulating in the tunnel. This, however, is untenable, because no preliminary symptoms were observable. The general opinion of railway officials and experts is that the disaster was caused by some explosive material which had been placed probably in the rear-most carriage. Meanwhile a searching inquiry is proceeding. It is believed that about forty persons were injured, some dangerously.

Almost simultaneously with the Praed street affair, a violent explosion occurred in the underground railway between Charing Cross and Westminster stations. Windows and signaling stations in the tunnel were shattered. At Charing Cross the glass roof of the station partially collapsed. The report is described as being like that of artillery. The effects were similar to those of the Praed street explosion. Carriage lamps, windows, etc., were smashed. All traffic was suspended for a while. Although both explosions are matters of the greatest mystery, they are generally thought to have been of Fenian origin.

The shocks of both explosions are described by officials as very similar to the shock at the local government board office in March last, in which Dr. Callaghan was implicated. It is stated that four machines similar to rockets were found in the tunnel, near the Praed-street Station. Altogether six carriages were shattered by the explosion near Praed street. Although about forty persons were admitted to the hospitals, many more were injured, but were sent directly to their own homes.

The Times says that since the disastrous events at the local government board, in March last, nothing has occurred so calculated to excite public alarm as the explosion to-night. It is evident the occurrences were not accidental. The explosives were of a most powerful nature. Suspicion points in one direction only. It is hoped the authors will speedily be brought to justice.

Fatal Choke Damp.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—Kiefer & Stiefel's tannery, in the upper part of Allegheny City, was the scene of a terrible affair Tuesday morning, two men sacrificing their lives in an unsuccessful attempt to save their fellow-workman. The firm have been digging a well to be used as a vat, and this morning Christ Dickson, an employee, went down to measure the depth of water, when he was overcome by foul air. Ferdinand Schrader and Charles Schultz, who were working near by, heard his cries and Schrader descended into the well to assist him. But no sooner had he reached the bottom than the fatal choke damp rendered him insensible. Schultz then followed, but he was also overcome. Ropes were then procured and fastened around the bodies of Salome Bamberger and Rhinehart Remsen, who were lowered into the death trap. With difficulty they tied the bodies to the ropes, and all were hauled up. Dickson, Schrader and Schultz were decelerated and taken to the hospital unconscious, but with the aid of restoratives were soon revived, and they were able to go to their homes. Dickson was single, and the other two were married.

Novel and Pathetic Scene.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—There was a novel and pathetic scene in the new court-house Tuesday, where Charles Briggs was on trial for the murder of his wife, or alleged wife. It was a twelve-year-old girl, whose testimony will probably send the prisoner in the dock, who is about fifty years old to the scaffold. The little girl, who was as bright intellectually as the most pretty of face, told the story of the killing with vivid distinctness. This has already been related, but her subsequent evidence, wherein she detailed the previous quarrels of her mother and her father, as she called Briggs, completely upset, in advance, the theory which it is expected the defense will adopt, viz.: That the prisoner had insane was at the time of the killing. The little girl told of the repeated quarrels between Briggs and her mother about women and men, and unfolded an awful story of domestic depravity.

Another Railroad Enterprise.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 31.—Articles of incorporation of the United States Central Railway, to run from San Francisco to this city, were filed Tuesday. The capital stock is $75,000,000, and prominent men are among the promoters of the scheme. The line will be being ex-Governor Beveridge, of Illinois.

At the election of officers at San Francisco, W. Walker, of the St. Louis & Hannibal Road, was elected President. Should the line gain easy entrance to San Francisco it is thought it will prove a formidable competitor to the Central Pacific.

Indicted.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Frank L. Loring and John Fleming, charged with pretending to constitute a firm under the style of Fleming & Merriam, which pretended to do a brokerage business, but really bent on appropriating to their own use the money of persons contributing to a fictitious fund called "Mutual Co-operative Fund Adv." also with using the mutual fund for law, for sending and receiving letters for these fraudulent purposes, have been indicted by the Grand Jury.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

A FREIGHT train on the Kentucky Central Railroad ran over and killed eight mules near Richmond the other day, the property of Harvey Cobb.

MARIA ASH, aged twenty-two years, living about six miles from Frankfort, appeared before the Grand Jury a few days ago as a witness against her father, Bedford Ash. She says that two years ago he compelled her to submit to carnal intercourse with him, since which time she has given birth to a child, and that he is the father of it. Ash has another daughter, aged about fourteen years, and it is said that a few nights since he tried to ruin her, and upon her refusal, he whipped her in a cruel manner. She started to the city to tell the authorities, but he overtook her and brought her back home. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

LUCY CONNOR, colored, living near Maysville, was decoyed from her home a few nights ago by Marshall Boston under the pretense of having been sent for by a sick neighbor. After getting her some distance from her home he forced her to accompany him into a thicket, where he repeatedly outraged her. He was arrested the next day, and is now in jail.

THE Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Kentucky, which was in session at Cranford a few days since, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Grand Master, J. F. Grant; Deputy Grand Master, R. L. Cook; Grand Warden, D. C. Cunningham; Grand Secretary, Wm. White; Grand Treasurer, Geo. W. Morris; Grand Representative, W. W. Morris. The following nominations for grand officers were made: Grand Master, J. M. Bigger, D. L. Cook; Deputy Grand Master, John Lewis, G. W. Ried, E. B. Lewis, D. L. Cunningham; Grand Warden, John L. Gaunt, A. M. Cocker, R. M. Anderson, E. H. Kirkman, H. E. Jenkins, Jno. T. Wilson, George Ziller; Grand Secretary, William White, L. R. Hawthorn; Grand Treasurer, G. W. MAJOR S. R. CRUMBAUGH, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of this State, has been acquitted before the United States Supreme Court at Louisville of the charge of using Government envelopes for private correspondence.

A HARRODSBURG, Mercer County, dispatch of the 30th says: "Last night about half-past nine Robert Pulliam, while drunk, boasted that he could not be arrested. This led to some words with Ki Hawkins, when Hawkins knocked Pulliam down. Hawkins then walked up the street. When he got opposite the house on the corner of Main street and Lexington, near the old Pottem House, Pulliam came up to him and shot him under the left arm, killing him instantly. A moment after James Moffett came up the street, when Pulliam shot him in the neck, wounding him severely. Pulliam was immediately arrested and placed in jail. There is some hope of Moffett's recovery."

MR. JOHN SCHERER, an old German residing near Alexandria, in Campbell County, applied to the police of Newport a few days ago for assistance in recovering his daughter Barbara, nineteen years of age, who left home some eight months ago. Search by the officers revealed her presence in a house of ill-fame. She refused to go home, but was finally prevailed upon to accompany her father to her sister's, a Mrs. Smith, living in Cincinnati.

Weekly Review of the Louisville Leaf Tobacco Market.

The receipts for the week were 230 hogsheads against 300 last week, and 160 in the corresponding week of last year. Receipts have been small, and are not expected to increase except from the fruits of the crop of 1883. Of the latter 18 hogsheads appeared on the breaks this week, and if insignificant in quantity these offerings have been in the highest degree encouraging as samples of the forthcoming crop. To the extent to which the crop has been represented by plants, samples and packages, it is the best crop in some respects that has been handled for many years. The leading excellencies are in color, texture and body but there would also appear to be more leafiness in some sections at least than has been anticipated. Burley samples have appeared principally, but the Clarksville types have also been represented very favorably. Among the finest specimens of Burley ever received here were several cures from Mercer County, a comparatively new tobacco county of Central Kentucky. Burley tobaccos have been strong at full prices. New crop tobaccos whenever offered have attracted a keen demand and have sold high, at figures indeed considerably higher, when loss of weight and cost of carrying are considered, than corresponding grades of dry tobacco. Dark and heavy styles, both leaf and lugs, have been firm, with fuller prices at the close for common and medium leaf. The New York market is reported strong for Kentucky tobacco, with sales of 927 hogsheads during the week at 6 1/2 @ 6 3/4. We quote full weight packages as follows:

	Dark and Heavy.	Burley.
Trash.....	$5 00 @ 5 75	$5 00 @ 5 50
Common lugs.....	5 75 @ 6 25	6 00 @ 6 00
Medium lugs.....	6 00 @ 6 75	7 00 @ 10 00
Good lugs.....	6 50 @ 7 25	8 00 @ 10 00
Common leaf.....	6 75 @ 7 75	8 00 @ 10 00
Medium leaf.....	7 75 @ 9 00	12 00 @ 15 00
Good leaf.....	9 00 @ 11 00	20 00 @ 24 00
Fine and fancy leaf.....	12 00 @ 17 00	30 00 @ 36 00

A horrible case of self-mutilation recently transpired near Macon, Ga. Edward Moore, an old clergyman, of Tattall County, while under a temporary derangement of mind, became impressed with the idea that he must obtain relief by cutting off his hand, and, after eating breakfast, went to a shop, procured an ax and deliberately chopped off his hand. He walked some two hundred feet after he had completed the act and fell over in a ditch, where he was subsequently found exhausted from the loss of blood. He was taken to the house, and after a little trouble the physicians succeeded in improving his condition.

A Singular Game of Chess.

A singular game at chess has just been finished in the north of Scotland. The game was begun about twelve months ago in Brooklyn. The first player, Mr. J. B. Munoz, made a move, and then passed the scoring sheet on by post to a friend. That friend made a move in reply, and then passed the paper on by post to another well known player, who made a move in continuation. In this way the document found its way to Baltimore, where Mr. Sellman, who played lately in the London tournament, added a move and sent the paper on to England, and, after passing through the hands of other known players in London and other towns, who each added a move, it began a tour among the chess players of Scotland. After traveling as far north as Dallwillington, the document was sent back to Sheriff Spens of Glasgow. That gentleman examined the position, and decided that the game was lost for white, as black could force an exchange of rooks and win with the pawns. He thereupon returned the game to the first player, Mr. J. B. Munoz, who now sent it to London to be published as a curiosity in the Chess Monthly, where it has just appeared. The scoring sheet bears the signatures of seventy players, who each made a move in the game, and the document shows that it has passed from hand to hand through thirty-two towns and cities of England, Scotland and America.

Undesirable Feet.

The study of the anatomy of the horse's foot suggests the great importance of man's attention to the feet of all domestic animals; evinces the necessity of great skill and caution on the part of all persons who shoe horses; throws valuable light on the origin, nature and proper treatment of the various diseases to which horses' feet are subject, particularly contraction of the hoof, founder, canker, corns, and cracks, thrush and quittor; and affords a ready explanation of a few points, which we will proceed to state, respecting malformations or undesirable peculiarities in the structure of the feet of some particular horses.

A thin foot is one which has a thin wall, and though perfectly well-shaped, and in all respects pleasing to the eye, it is peculiarly liable to damage from either the attaching of the shoe, traveling on hard ground, excessive draught in summer, or excessive moisture in winter. The bottom of the wall of a thin foot is generally ragged; and when the shoe is removed, the whole verge is seen to be thin. A strong foot has the fibres of the hoof very distinct, and somewhat similar in appearance to those of any easily-split timber; and if not kept carefully moist and pliable, it becomes almost as hard as iron, and renders the foot lame and tender without revealing the cause of the lameness; and when hurt to the quick, and locally inflamed, has a tendency to cause a very troublesome eruption around the coronet, and is always subject to rents and fissures of the hoof, sometimes so severe as to terminate in the total disruption of the coffin bone from the sensible foot. A narrow-heeled foot, in some instances, is tolerably good; but in others, inclines to heat and rottenness, and when tampered with in the usual manner of the ordinary "hoss doctor," is almost certain to become hoof-bound. A fore foot of perceptibly smaller size than its fellow, may, in the course of time, become feeble and incapable. A flat foot, shaped like an oyster, has many rings and wrinkles, and probably requires a hollow-shaped shoe, and generally renders the animal unfit for the saddle, and not the fittest one for the plow. A low-heeled foot renders the animal a bad traveler; and a high-heeled foot is subject to unsteadiness of action, to tripping and stumbling, and to sprains in the coffin and pastern joints. A foot of disproportionately large size is usually accompanied with slenderness and comparative weakness of limb, and indicates inability for any brisk or vigorous action. A white foot is popularly regarded as inferior to a foot of any other color. Indeed, when a horse has too many of his feet white they do not always prove the best; yet we have seen white-footed horses have their feet such that the ablest judges could not find fault with.

When a foot is smooth and tough, of a middle size, without wrinkles, neither too hard and brittle, nor too soft, and when the heel is firm, open and in no ways spongy or rotten, and the frog horny or dry, and the sole somewhat hollow, like the inside of a dish or bowl, whatever be the color, such a foot will for the most part turn out good, though the dark or black hoof, when it resembles that of a deer, is generally the best; and for this reason, those who are the most particular about a horse's feet, do not choose such as have much white upon their legs and pasterns, to avoid their having too many white feet.—Prairie Farmer.

Made-up Bonnets.

Cloths, velvets—plain, brocaded, and embroidered—with lace and large jets, are used on the made-up bonnets (that is, when fabrics are laid on frames), and these are usually made of the material of the dress with which they are worn. Tailors save pieces of bias cloth for making the entire bonnet, or to be laid in a folded scarf around the crown of a velvet, felt, or soutache bonnet, and the dressmaker gives bits of the rich embroidered velvet tabliers for the crown of dressy bonnets, and of the plain velvet of the other parts of the costume to make the brim or for trimming. There is no set way of putting cloth or velvet on the frame; the only rule is that the frame must be small, and otherwise no two bonnets are alike, as the milliner seems to follow her caprice in the arrangement of the fabrics, or perhaps she cuts according to her cloth. For instance, there are smooth crowns with stiff lining, and there are full soft cap crowns; there are box-plaited crowns in lengthwise plaitings, and there are festooned pieces across the crown made of velvet edged with beads or of cloth finished with chenille; and brims are equally diversified by being full or plain, puffed or box-plaited, in smooth folds, or with a slight coronet smoothly covered with velvet or dotted with large moulded beads or with jets cut in many fancies. One pretty fancy is that of covering the bonnet with velvet pointed bits in leaf shape an inch and a half long, beginning in the center of the crown and extending to the edge of the brim, where there are tiny ostrich tips falling forward on the hair. Another novel arrangement has rows of fine knife-plaiting of doubled velvet, each row an inch wide, starting in the center of the crown and covering the whole frame. This is pretty in three shades of a color, thus cream velvet in three rows forming the crown, with golden brown plaitings next, and darker chestnut brown plaitings in the front. The fashion of dark velvet linings and facings for the front of bonnets still continues, and some of the most costly bonnets for day receptions have the crown of ivory white velvet nearly covered with embroidery of colored pearl beads, chenille, and silk while the front is made of puffs of dark moss green, golden brown, or the new brilliant red velvet. There are also rich bonnets made of very fine white camel's-hair and of India cashmere embroidered with gold and silver threads, or wrought with large dots done in fine jet beads, or else the fine wool fabric is plain, and is laid in many folds on the crown, with a brim of plaited chenille or of puffed velvet or of feathers. Black or white net is also the base of very rich and gay embroideries for crowns, and these are laid over transparent satins, either white or colored, and the velvet brim corresponds in color.—Harper's Bazar.

A Good Enough Thing.

"Father," he said as the two stood on Jefferson avenue looking around, "that is the Board of Trade building over there."

"Yes, yes—I see; good big place to trade in."

"That's where they speculate."

"They do, eh?"

"Yes; if you were to give me a $1,000 in cash I'd go over there and buy wheat at 95, wait a few days and sell for a dollar, and divide the profit with you."

"I declare!" said the old man as he reached into his pocket.

"It's an easy way to make money, father."

FORTY BILLION GERMS.

A Wonderful Theory That Concerns the Welfare, Happiness and Life of Everyone.

In his quiet and cozy library at the close of a busy day sat a gentleman and his wife, he absorbed in a new book and she in the newspaper. Quickly glancing toward her husband, she asked, at a certain point in the article:

"John, what is the germ theory?"

"The germ theory—well—yes; just look in the encyclopedia under 'Germ,' that will explain it so much better than I can."

Accordingly his wife opened the book at the word named and read: Germ Theory of Disease—A theory advanced by the ablest and best investigators and scientists of the times. It supposes the surface of the earth, the air and water to be inhabited to a greater or less extent with a peculiar growth of the lowest form of fungi—commonly termed bacteria, whose power of reproduction, under favorable conditions, is so great that a single germ will increase to fifteen million in twenty-four hours' time, and unchecked in its increase would grow to a mass of eight hundred tons, in three days' time, if space and food be furnished. There is no condition under which it can be said to be absent, unless it be from fire or air filtered through cotton-bating in numerous layers. A single drop of water containing a germ, put into water boiled, filtered and thus freed from bacteria, will grow murky in a day or two from the development of new germs. When it is considered that it requires about forty billion to weigh one grain, some remote idea can be had of the capacity of germ reproduction.

Prof. John Tyndall, in a late work, elaborately treats of the influence of germs in the propagation of disease, and charges upon this cause the inception and development of very many of the ailments most injurious to man. Prof. Pasteur, an eminent French savant, has carried his original and beautiful experiments so far, and from them deduced such practical results, as to disprove the old theory of spontaneous generation among sheep and chicken cholera among fowls—proving his theory that these are essentially and actually germ diseases. These germs are carried into the system through the lungs, the stomach and possibly the skin, but through the lungs chiefly. Once in the system, they begin to develop, poisoning the blood, invading the nerve centers, disturbing the functional activity of the great organs of the body, and inducing a general impairment of the vital processes. They are the cause of fevers, rheumatism, Bright's disease of the kidneys, pneumonia, blood poisoning, liver disease, diphtheria and many other ailments. Prof. Koch, a famous German physician, has proved that consumption of the lungs is due to this cause—the presence of a peculiar germ.

When the circulation is bounding, the nerves elastic and the system all aglow with life and energy, the germ seems to develop rapidly. But with weak nerves, poor digestion or malassimilation of food or a lowering of vitality from any cause, a change ensues, and in this impoverished and weakened fluid the germ finds a genial home and develops until symptoms of disease are distinctly manifested. This is seen in the everyday experience of all. The healthy man resists the influences around him and does not take cold, while those whose systems have become weak and whose vitality is lowered contract disease. This is on the same principle as the germ theory. The germs attack any weakened spot in the body, and fixing themselves upon it, begin their propagation. It is put forth that it is only by fortifying the weak portions of the body that the germs of disease can be resisted and driven from the system. But this has proved almost an impossibility heretofore, and it has been the study of physicians for years how best to accomplish it. Within the past few years, however, a preparation has been attracting great attention, not only throughout the entire land, but among the medical profession and scientists generally, which is based upon this theory, and it may safely be said, no remedy has ever been found which can so successfully place the system in a condition to resist the germs of disease as Warner's Safe Cure. This article is unquestionably the best and most efficient that has ever been discovered for this purpose, and—

"John, say, John! does the encyclopedia advertise Warner's Safe Cure?"

"I should not wonder, dear, it's a grand remedy, and that pamphlet we received the other day stated that Dr. Gunn, of the United States Medical College endorsed it. At all events the wonderful cures it is accomplishing are too well known to need among the great discoveries of the present century."

However the facts above stated may be, the truth remains that the germ theory of disease is the correct one, and that the great remedy mentioned is the only one which has ever been found that can put the system in a condition to kill these germs before they obtain a hold upon the body, and undermine the life.

SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Mr. H. L. SOPER, Principal of the High School at Piquette, Conn., says in relation to a matter which has given him much anxiety and pain: "My wife and I have both used Hunt's Remedy, and find it really a superior article. A year or so ago my kidneys became weak and sluggish, owing to a severe cold, and finding relief in Hunt's Remedy, I continued its use until I had used four bottles, when I became well. Since my cure I have suggested its use to a great number of people, who I know have benefited by using it. And to substantiate this statement, Mr. H. S. Clark, Assistant Superintendent of the High School, says: 'I can certify to the value of Hunt's Remedy, having received great benefit from its use. My troubles commenced twelve years ago, when my kidneys became afflicted with inflammation of the passages, but the timely use of so valuable a medicine arrested the disease. I can now cheerfully recommend it to all suffering as I was.'"

This most remarkable statement was made by Mr. Frank B. Lee, clerk in the office of N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., Little Falls, N. Y., on the 8th of June, 1883. Mr. Lee says: "My father has been troubled for over twenty years with severe kidney and bladder disease, suffering the most acute pain when urinating. He became so bad that he was obliged to give up all business. His condition was such that his urine would drop constantly, and he was obliged to use a rubber bag, the weakness was so great. He used many kinds of medicine without deriving any benefit, until he was urged by one of our druggists in Little Falls, Mr. Smith, to use Hunt's Remedy, as he had known of its being used in many cases with great success. I purchased one bottle, and he commenced using it, and he was so improved that he got along without the rubber bag. He used in all twelve bottles, and it has entirely cured him. Father is sixty-two years old, and we consider it most wonderful cure, and cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy to all afflicted with kidney, liver or urinary troubles."

All the evidence published in regard to Hunt's Remedy can be relied upon; it is true in every particular.

Though shaken in every joint and abet with fever and ague, or bilious remittent, the system may yet be freed from the malignant virus which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Foxy Mann has been awarded the contract for collecting up all the brick bats and placing them where the ladies can have free access to them. Does this mean the ladies are for war or desire to prevent bloodshed by not allowing others to use the missiles?

Vagabond Hock stole a ham from the Johnson House one night last week, and after leaving it at Tom Jeff's shoe shop left for parts unknown. It is thought that the scamp can tell who took the barrel of flour from the same place on the same occasion.

It is a noticeable fact that those who most desire to have a personal interview with the head of this department are those who have a little secret history they don't want published. Just be easy; next week completes the contract and if the women don't object there'll be a new hand at the wheel.

The colored citizen are awaiting the action of the grand lodge of Knights of Wise Men regarding the death of Hattie Baker, a member of the lodge this place. Under the law of the lodge the heirs of members are paid $1,000 within sixty days after the demise. This is the first death here, and interest in colored circles runs high.

The remark that the cage was in the wrong place has set people to thinking of the matter and they have decided to petition the council to have it removed. When a filthy insect, about like Sallie Ball, or Matt Johnson, is placed there for using obscene language on the street, the vile language they use while behind the bars can be discerned by every one in the vicinity.

A few nights since the colored brass band was discoursing sweet music in front of Bryan's Hall, and three citizens stood afar off with down cast eyes endeavoring to catch the tune. One claimed it was Yankee Doodle; another said it was Home Sweet Home; while the third held that it was Old Hundred. After much discussion they agreed to call it "chaos" and that's just what it was.

A few nights since Joe Buff, col'd, was found in the depot—whither he had gone through a window—warning himself before a roaring fire and heeding not the orphan's wail. Joe was made to come out and rest in the cage till Judge Miller gave him a trial, and held him over to await the action of the January grand jury. He and Civ. Williams now make it pleasant for each other in the county jail.

Sam and Will Turney and Dove Green were all arrested and brought before Squire Jameson for trial for trespassing on A. McClintock's farm, but Mr. McClintock dismissed the case against them on their promising not to do so any more.

Dear John Buck: You wish to know the news. Well, Councilman McIntyre's beef shop is making both ends "meat." Bug Oliver is discussing Mr. Clay and Mr. Webster and Mr. Cameron. The old stone factory is holding out yet. Jno. Barnett continues to laugh occasionally. Jno. Mock keeps his eye on consumptives. Jeff Vimont would talk loud at the sight of Frisky Hunter. Duke Jones supports the "hind man." Jim Collier thinks that the Republicans are not dead—but fearfully disfigured. Amos Jameson wants to be County Judge. Ladies are so attached to this paper they convert it into a bustle. Jacob Coop says "Yohn Hamilton, Yack Hitt and tat Al. Trigg schust ought to be made marry." That's all; Good bye; God bless you. Yours for all's out. #

"B'RR B'AR."
 POSTED—Notice is hereby given that I posted my farm, adjoining Millersburg, according to all the forms of law, and all persons are forbidden to hunt or fish or trespass in any way on said farm, I will enforce the law against all offenders—WHITE AND BLACK.
 Oct. 17th 1883. ALEX. MCCLINTOCK.

The World, speaking of the London praises of Mary Anderson, says: "We are expected to reciprocate over here by turning our Pactolian stream loose upon Mr. Irving's dramatic wheel." That is a pretty sentence, indeed; but what do the readers of two-cent newspapers know about such learned words as "Pactolian."

CHRISTINE NILSSON has returned from Europe plumper than ever and as fresh in complexion as a young school-girl. It is really time these returning stars thought of something new to talk about when they are interviewed. About all Nilsson had to say was that she loves dear America and is going to make it her home, and that she will never cross that horrid ocean again. All this she said when she was last here, and yet she went back to Europe on the first opportunity.

POLYGAMY should be crushed out, for it is one of the relics of barbarism, and when it said when the Mormons encourage and foster this relic of barbarism that is the worst that can be said of them. All the evidence of impartial observers goes to show that they are honest, temperate, industrious and virtuous beyond the average of communities. Stories of a different nature, in which they are portrayed as corrupt and degraded, have generally originated with disappointed office-seekers. The truth is, that, shorn of polygamy, the Mormons would undoubtedly very soon be classed among the most creditable citizens of our country.

BOURBON FARM FOR SALE.

Turkeys! Turkeys!!

I DESIRE to inform the turkey-raising public, that I want an unlimited number of fat, plump, corn-fed bluegrass turkeys such as I ship every season to the New York and Boston market. For such, I will pay the highest market price, delivered on foot. oct-30-17 W. W. GILL, Paris, Ky.

TURKEYS WANTED.

Having an old and well-established turkey trade in Boston and other Eastern cities, I still desire to supply the same to the demands with the Kentucky-raised birds. I do not care whether they are corn, bluegrass or fat-fed, just so they are fine fat birds. I will do the same by the trade this year that I have always done—pay the highest market price in cash.
 I will receive and slaughter at Paris, Richmond and Flemingsburg.

FOR SALE PRIVATELY.

I desire to sell at private sale, my residence at Shawhan's, Bourbon county, (lately the property of Richard Rule), and my lot where the store recently burned from. The residence is an elegant frame cottage of the latest improved plan and is in No. 1 repair; good garden and yard, and is well watered. The store-lot has a good foundation on which to build, and is a splendid stand for a country store. I sold $22,000 worth of goods at the stand in eleven months. For full particulars, address the undersigned.
